

payments from Stanford 20/20; $29,567.88 in payments from SFGGM; $200,000.00 in payments from Stanford Financial Group Company (“SFGC”); $180,000.00 in payments from Allen Stanford personally; and $18,638.43 in payments from Stanford Eagle, LLC operating accounts, which were primarily funded through bank accounts in the names of SFGGM and SFGC. Through this lawsuit, the Receiver seeks the return of these funds in order to make an equitable distribution to claimants. The Receiver’s investigation is continuing, and should more payments of CD Proceeds to Stoelker be discovered, the Receiver will amend this Complaint to assert claims as to such additional payments.

4. Stoelker either performed services that did not constitute reasonably equivalent value, or she performed only services that were in furtherance of the Ponzi scheme, which cannot be reasonably equivalent value as a matter of law.

5. At all times relevant to this complaint, the Stanford Parties were insolvent, and Defendant Allen Stanford operated the Stanford entities in furtherance of his fraudulent scheme. Each payment of CD Proceeds from the Stanford Parties to Stoelker was made with actual intent to hinder, delay, and defraud the Stanford Parties’ creditors.

6. The Receiver was only able to discover the fraudulent nature of the above-referenced transfers after Allen Stanford and his accomplices were removed from control of the Stanford entities and after a time-consuming and extensive review of thousands upon thousands of paper and electronic documents relating to the Stanford entities.

7. The Receiver seeks an order that: (a) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker were fraudulent transfers under applicable law or, in the alternative, unjustly enriched Stoelker; (b) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker are property of the Receivership Estate held pursuant to a constructive trust for the benefit of the Receivership

Estate; (c) Stoelker is liable to the Receivership Estate for an amount equaling the amount of CD Proceeds she received; and (d) awards attorneys' fees, costs, and interest to the Receiver.

JURISDICTION & VENUE

8. This Court has jurisdiction over this action, and venue is proper, under Section 22(a) of the Securities Act (15 U.S.C. § 77v(a)), Section 27 of the Exchange Act (15 U.S.C. § 78aa), and under Chapter 49 of Title 28, Judiciary and Judicial Procedure (28 U.S.C. § 754).

9. Further, as the Court that appointed the Receiver, this Court has jurisdiction over any claim brought by the Receiver to execute his Receivership duties.

10. Further, within 10 days of his appointment, the Receiver filed the original Complaint and Order Appointing the Receiver in 29 United States district courts pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 754, giving this Court in rem and in personam jurisdiction in each district where the Complaint and Order have been filed, including the Southern District of Texas.

11. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Stoelker pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. 4(k)(1)(C) and 15 U.S.C. §§ 754 and 1692.

THE PARTIES

12. Plaintiff Ralph S. Janvey has been appointed by this Court as the Receiver for the assets, monies, securities, properties, real and personal, tangible and intangible, of whatever kind and description, wherever located, and the legally recognized privileges (with regard to the entities) of Stanford International Bank, Ltd., Stanford Group Company, Stanford Capital Management, LLC, Robert Allen Stanford, James M. Davis, Laura Pendergest-Holt, Stanford Financial Group, the Stanford Financial Group Bldg., Inc., and all entities the foregoing persons and entities own or control, including, but not limited to SFGGM and SFGC (the "Receivership Assets”). Plaintiff Janvey is asserting the claims contained herein in his capacity as Court-appointed Receiver.<sup>1</sup>

13. Defendant Andrea Stoelker resides in Houston, Texas. Stoelker will be served pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or by other means approved by the Court.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

14. On February 16, 2009, the Securities and Exchange Commission commenced a lawsuit in this Court against R. Allen Stanford, two associates, James M. Davis and Laura Pendergest-Holt, and three of Mr. Stanford’s companies, Stanford International Bank, Ltd. (“SIB” or “the Bank”), Stanford Group Company, and Stanford Capital Management, LLC (collectively the “Stanford Defendants”). On the same date, the Court signed an Order appointing a Receiver, Ralph S. Janvey, over all property, assets, and records of the Stanford Defendants, and all entities they own or control.

I. Stanford Defendants Operated a Ponzi Scheme.

15. As alleged by the SEC, the Stanford Defendants marketed fraudulent SIB CDs to investors exclusively through SGC financial advisors pursuant to a Regulation D private placement. SEC’s Second Amended Complaint (Doc. 952), ¶ 27.<sup>2</sup> The CDs were sold by Stanford International Bank, Ltd. Id.

16. The Stanford Defendants orchestrated and operated a wide-ranging Ponzi scheme. Stanford Defendant James M. Davis has admitted that the Stanford fraud was a Ponzi scheme from the beginning. Doc. 771 (Davis Plea Agreement) at ¶ 17(n) (Stanford, Davis, and other conspirators created a “massive Ponzi scheme”); Doc. 807 (Davis Tr. of Rearraignment) at

16:16-17, 21:6-8, 21:15-17 (admitting the Stanford Ponzi fraud was a “massive Ponzi scheme ab initio”). In fact, this Court recently found that the Stanford fraud was indeed a Ponzi scheme. See Case No. 3:09-CV-0724-N, Doc. 456 at 2 (“The Stanford scheme operated as a classic Ponzi scheme, paying dividends to early investors with funds brought in from later investors.”), at 11 (“[T]he Receiver presents ample evidence that the Stanford scheme . . . was a Ponzi scheme.”), and at 13 (“The Court finds that the Stanford enterprise operated as a Ponzi scheme . . .”).

17. In marketing, selling, and issuing CDs to investors, the Stanford Defendants repeatedly touted the CDs’ safety and security and SIB’s consistent, double-digit returns on its investment portfolio. SEC’s Second Amended Complaint (Doc. 952), ¶¶ 32-33.

18. In its brochure, SIB told investors, under the heading “Depositor Security,” that its investment philosophy is “anchored in time-proven conservative criteria, promoting stability in [the Bank’s] certificate of deposit.” SIB also emphasized that its “prudent approach and methodology translate into deposit security for our customers.” Id. ¶ 34. Further, SIB stressed the importance of investing in “marketable” securities, saying that “maintaining the highest degree of liquidity” was a “protective factor for our depositors.” Id.

19. In its 2006 and 2007 Annual Reports, SIB told investors that the Bank’s assets were invested in a “well-balanced global portfolio of marketable financial instruments, namely U.S. and international securities and fiduciary placements.” Id. ¶ 35. More specifically, SIB represented that its 2007 portfolio allocation was 58.6% equity, 18.6% fixed income, 7.2% precious metals and 15.6% alternative investments. Id.

20. Consistent with its Annual Reports and brochures, SIB trained SGC financial advisors, in February 2008, that “liquidity/marketability of SIB’s invested assets” was the “most important factor to provide security to SIB clients.” Id. ¶ 36. In training materials, the Stanford Defendants also claimed that SIB had earned consistently high returns on its investment of deposits (ranging from 11.5% in 2005 to 16.5% in 1993). Id. ¶ 49.

21. Contrary to the Stanford Defendants' representations regarding the liquidity of SIB's portfolio, SIB did not invest in a "well-diversified portfolio of highly marketable securities." Instead, significant portions of the Bank's portfolio were misappropriated by the Stanford Defendants and were either placed in speculative investments (many of them illiquid, such as private equity deals), diverted to other Stanford Entities "on behalf of shareholder" – i.e., for the benefit of Allen Stanford, or used to finance Allen Stanford's lavish lifestyle (e.g., jet planes, a yacht, other pleasure craft, luxury cars, homes, travel, company credit cards, etc.). In fact, at year-end 2008, the largest segments of the Bank's portfolio were private equity; over-valued real estate; and at least $1.6 billion in undocumented "loans" to Defendant Allen Stanford. See id. ¶¶ 39-40.

22. In an effort to conceal their fraud and ensure that investors continued to purchase the CD, the Stanford Defendants fabricated the performance of SIB's investment portfolio. Id. ¶ 4.

23. SIB's financial statements, including its investment income, were fictional. Id. ¶¶ 4, 53. In calculating SIB's investment income, Stanford Defendants Allen Stanford and James Davis provided to SIB's internal accountants a pre-determined return on investment for the Bank's portfolio. Id. Using this pre-determined number, SIB's accountants reverse-engineered the Bank's financial statements to reflect investment income that SIB did not actually earn. Id.

24. For a time, the Stanford Defendants were able to keep the fraud going by using funds from current sales of SIB CDs to make interest and redemption payments on pre-existing CDs. See id. ¶ 1. However, in late 2008 and early 2009, CD redemptions increased to the point that new CD sales were inadequate to cover redemptions and normal operating expenses. As the depletion of liquid assets accelerated, this fraudulent Ponzi scheme collapsed.

25. Most of the above facts discovered from Stanford's records have since been confirmed by Stanford's Chief Financial Officer, James Davis, who has pleaded guilty to his role in running the Stanford Ponzi scheme.

II. Stanford Transferred CD Proceeds from the Ponzi Scheme to Stoelker.

26. CD Proceeds from the Ponzi scheme described above were transferred by or at the direction of the Stanford Parties to Stoelker. Stoelker did not perform services of reasonably equivalent value in exchange for those payments, and any services performed by Stoelker were designed to further the operations of the Ponzi scheme and may well have assisted Stanford in attracting new victim investors. Any services provided by Stoelker were of no utility — and, therefore, were of no value — from the perspective of the Stanford Parties' creditors.

27. The transfers of CD Proceeds to Stoelker consisted of at least the following: $140,000.00 in payments from Stanford 20/20; $29,567.88 in payments from SFGGM; $200,000.00 in payments from SFGC; $180,000.00 in payments from Allen Stanford personally; and $18,638.43 in payments from Stanford Eagle, LLC.

REQUESTED RELIEF

28. This Court appointed Ralph S. Janvey as Receiver for the Receivership Assets. Order Appointing Receiver (Doc. 10) at ¶¶ 1-2; Amended Order Appointing Receiver (Doc. 157) at ¶¶ 1-2. The Receiver seeks the relief described herein in this capacity.

29. Paragraph 4 of the Order Appointing Receiver, signed by the Court on February 16, 2009, authorizes the Receiver "to immediately take and have complete and exclusive control, possession, and custody of the Receivership Estate and to any assets traceable to assets owned by the Receivership Estate.” Order Appointing Receiver (Doc. 10) at ¶ 4; Amended Order Appointing Receiver (Doc. 157) at ¶ 4. Paragraph 5(c) of the Order specifically authorizes the Receiver to “[i]nstitute such actions or proceedings [in this Court] to impose a constructive trust, obtain possession, and/or recover judgment with respect to persons or entities who received assets or records traceable to the Receivership Estate.” Order Appointing Receiver (Doc. 10) at ¶ 5(c); Amended Order Appointing Receiver (Doc. 157) at ¶ 5(c).

30. One of the Receiver’s key duties is to maximize distributions to defrauded investors and other claimants. See Amended Order Appointing Receiver (Doc. 157) at ¶ 5(g), (j) (ordering the Receiver to “[p]reserve the Receivership Estate and minimize expenses in furtherance of maximum and timely disbursement thereof to claimants”); Scholes v. Lehmann, 56 F.3d 750, 755 (7th Cir. 1995) (receiver’s “only object is to maximize the value of the [estate assets] for the benefit of their investors and any creditors”); SEC v. TLC Invs. & Trade Co., 147 F. Supp. 2d 1031, 1042 (C.D. Cal. 2001); SEC v. Kings Real Estate Inv. Trust, 222 F.R.D. 660, 669 (D. Kan. 2004). But before the Receiver can attempt to make victims whole, he must locate and take exclusive control and possession of assets of the Estate or assets traceable to the Estate. Doc. 157 ¶ 5(b).

I. The Receiver is Entitled to Disgorgement of CD Proceeds Fraudulently Transferred to Stoelker.

31. The Receiver is entitled to disgorgement of the CD Proceeds transferred from the Stanford Parties to Stoelker because such payments constitute fraudulent transfers under applicable law. The Stanford Parties made the payments to Stoelker with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud Stanford’s creditors; as a result, the Receiver is entitled to the disgorgement of those payments. Additionally, the Stanford Parties transferred the funds to Stoelker at a time when the Stanford Parties were insolvent, and the Stanford Parties did not receive reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfers.

32. The Receiver may avoid transfers made with the actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors. “[T]ransfers made from a Ponzi scheme are presumptively made with intent to defraud, because a Ponzi scheme is, as a matter of law, insolvent from inception.” Quilling v. Schonsky, No. 07-10093, 2007 WL 2710703, at *2 (5th Cir. Sept. 18, 2007); see also Warfield v. Byron, 436 F.3d 551, 558 (5th Cir. 2006) (“ . . . [the debtor] was a Ponzi scheme, which is, as a matter of law, insolvent from its inception. . . . The Receiver’s proof that [the debtor] operated as a Ponzi scheme established the fraudulent intent behind transfers made by [the debtor].”).

33. The Stanford Parties were running a Ponzi scheme, which included SFGC, SFGGM, and Stanford 20/20, and paid Stoelker with funds taken from unwitting SIB CD investors. The Receiver is, therefore, entitled to disgorgement of the CD Proceeds the Stanford Parties fraudulently transferred to Stoelker.

34. Consequently, the burden is on Stoelker to establish an affirmative defense, if any, of good faith and provision of reasonably equivalent value. See Case No. 3:09-CV-0724-N, Doc. 456 at 13 (“A defendant invoking this defense has the burden to show both objective good faith and reasonable equivalence of consideration.”) (emphasis in original); see also Scholes, 56 F.3d at 756-57 (“If the plaintiff proves fraudulent intent, the burden is on the defendant to show that the fraud was harmless because the debtor’s assets were not depleted even slightly.”). The Receiver is, therefore, entitled to recover the full amount of the payments that Stoelker received, unless Stoelker proves both objective good faith and reasonably equivalent value.

35. The good-faith element of this affirmative defense requires that Stoelker — a high-ranking Stanford employee who had an intimate relationship with Allen Stanford himself — prove objective, rather than subjective, good faith. See Warfield, 436 F.3d at 559-560 (good faith is determined under an “objectively knew or should have known” standard); In re IFS Fin. Corp., Bankr. No. 02-39553, 2009 WL 2986928, at *15 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. Sept. 9, 2009) (objective standard is applied to determine good faith); Quilling v. Stark, No. 3-05-CV-1976-BD, 2007 WL 415351, at *3 (N.D. Tex. Feb. 7, 2007) (good faith “must be analyzed under an objective, rather than a subjective, standard. The relevant inquiry is what the transferee objectively knew or should have known instead of examining the transferee’s actual knowledge from a subjective standpoint.”) (internal citations and quotation marks omitted).

36. There is no evidence that Stoelker provided reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the fraudulent transfers she received. Moreover, both this Court and the Fifth Circuit have held that providing services in furtherance of a Ponzi scheme does not confer reasonably equivalent value. Warfield, 436 F.3d at 555, 560; Case No. 3:09-CV-0724-N, Doc. 456 at 13-14 (“[A]s a matter of law, services provided in the context of a Ponzi scheme do not constitute ‘reasonably equivalent value.’”). Furthermore, consideration which has no utility from the creditor’s perspective does not satisfy the statutory definition of “value.” SEC v. Resources Dev. Intern., LLC, 487 F.3d 295, 301 (5th Cir. 2007); In re Hinsley, 201 F.3d 638, 644 (5th Cir. 2000). Stoelker cannot now claim that, in return for furthering the Ponzi scheme and helping it endure, she should be entitled to keep the over $560,000 in CD Proceeds she received from the Stanford Parties. Because Stoelker cannot meet her burden to establish that she provided reasonably equivalent value for such payments, the Receiver is entitled to the disgorgement of those funds.

37. Moreover, under applicable fraudulent transfer law, the Receiver is entitled to attorney’s fees and costs for his claims against Stoelker. See, e.g., TEX. BUS. & COM. CODE ANN.

§ 24.013 (Vernon 2009) (“[T]he court may award costs and reasonable attorney’s fees as are equitable and just.”). As a result, the Receiver requests reasonable attorney’s fees and costs for prosecuting his fraudulent-transfer claims against Stoelker.

38. Stoelker cannot meet her burden to establish that she provided reasonably equivalent value for the CD Proceeds received from the Stanford Parties and that she received such payments in good faith. Accordingly, the Receiver is entitled to the disgorgement of those funds.

39. In order to carry out the duties delegated to him by this Court, the Receiver seeks complete and exclusive control, possession, and custody of the CD Proceeds received by Stoelker.

40. The Receiver was only able to discover the fraudulent nature of the above-referenced transfers after Allen Stanford and his accomplices were removed from control of the Stanford entities, and after a time-consuming and extensive review of thousands upon thousands of paper and electronic documents relating to the Stanford entities. Thus, the discovery rule and equitable tolling principles apply to any applicable limitations period. See, e.g., Wing v. Kendrick, No. 08-CV-01002, 2009 WL 1362383, at *3 (D. Utah May 14, 2009); Quilling v. Cristell, No. 304CV252, 2006 WL 316981, at *6 (W.D.N.C. Feb. 29, 2006); see also TEX. BUS. & COMM. CODE § 24.010(a)(1) (claims may be brought either within four years of the transfer or “within one year after the transfer or obligation was or could reasonably have been discovered by the claimant”).

41. The Stanford Parties, who orchestrated the Ponzi scheme, transferred the CD Proceeds to Stoelker with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud their creditors. The Receiver is, therefore, entitled to disgorgement of all CD Proceeds fraudulently transferred to Stoelker.

Pursuant to the equity powers of this Court, the Receiver seeks an order that: (a) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker were fraudulent transfers under applicable law; (b) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker are property of the Receivership Estate held pursuant to a constructive trust for the benefit of the Receivership Estate; (c) Stoelker is liable to the Receivership Estate for an amount equaling the amount of CD Proceeds she received; and (d) awards attorneys' fees, costs, and interest to the Receiver.

II. In the Alternative, the Receiver is Entitled to Disgorgement of CD Proceeds from Stoelker under the Doctrine of Unjust Enrichment.

42. In the alternative, the Receiver is entitled to disgorgement of the CD Proceeds paid to Stoelker pursuant to the doctrine of unjust enrichment under applicable law. Stoelker holds funds that in equity and good conscience belong to the Receivership for ultimate distribution to the defrauded investors. Stoelker has been unjustly enriched by such funds, and it would be unconscionable for her to retain the funds.

43. In order to carry out the duties delegated to him by this Court, the Receiver seeks complete and exclusive control, possession, and custody of the CD Proceeds received by Stoelker.

44. Stoelker has been unjustly enriched by her receipt of CD Proceeds from the Stanford Parties. The Receiver is, therefore, entitled to disgorgement of all CD Proceeds fraudulently transferred to Stoelker. Pursuant to the equity powers of this Court, the Receiver seeks an order that: (a) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker unjustly enriched Stoelker; (b) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker are property of the Receivership Estate held pursuant to a constructive trust for the benefit of the Receivership Estate; (c) Stoelker is liable to the Receivership Estate for an amount equaling the amount of CD Proceeds she received; and (d) awards attorneys' fees, costs, and interest to the Receiver.

PRAYER

45. The Receiver respectfully requests an Order providing that:
- (a) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker were fraudulent transfers under applicable law or, in the alternative, unjustly enriched Stoelker;
  - (b) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker are property of the Receivership Estate;
  - (c) CD Proceeds received directly or indirectly by Stoelker are subject to a constructive trust for the benefit of the Receivership Estate;
  - (d) Stoelker is liable to the Receivership Estate for an amount equaling the amount of CD Proceeds she received;
  - (e) The Receiver is awarded attorneys' fees, costs, and prejudgment and post-judgment interest; and
  - (f) Such other and further relief as the Court deems proper under the circumstances.
